

Best Birding Blinds at State Parks

Written by Texas Outdoors

Sunday, 30 March 2014 14:33 - Last Updated Sunday, 30 March 2014 14:36

---

Best Birding Blinds at State Parks

From observation platforms to enclosed shelters and traditional birding blinds, these parks offer optimal perches to experience some of the best birding in Texas.

Austin Area

- Blanco State Park
- Pedernales Falls State Park
- South Llano River State Park
- 16 other Texas State Parks and state natural areas are in the Austin area.

DFW Area

- Fort Parker State Park
- Lake Mineral Wells State Park & Tramway
- 20 other Texas State Parks and state natural areas are in the DFW area.

Houston and Gulf Coast Area

- Brazos Bend State Park
- Sea Rim State Park
- Goose Island State Park
- 7 other Texas State Parks and state natural areas are in the Houston area.

San Antonio Area

- Devil's Sinkhole State Natural Area
- Goliad State Park & Historic Site
- Government Canyon State Natural Area
- Honey Creek State Natural Area
- 18 other Texas State Parks and state natural areas are in the San Antonio area.

Best Birding Blinds at State Parks

Written by Texas Outdoors

Sunday, 30 March 2014 14:33 - Last Updated Sunday, 30 March 2014 14:36

---

South Texas Plains Area

- The World Birding Center — encompasses 9 locations in the Rio Grande Valley, including three state parks: Bentsen-Rio Grande Valley State Park, Estero Llano Grande State Park and Resaca de la Palma State Park. These areas play host to bird species that can be seen almost nowhere else in the United States — so plan your trip today.